WELCOME TO BOS!

The No BS BOS Guide. It started out as a simple idea - to do what we always do- research, curate, “package” and recommend the best happenings around town. After making Bushwick Daily guides for over two years, we were confident that decoding hundreds of shows and thousands of artists featured during Bushwick Open Studios wouldn’t be an insurmountable task. And while it wasn’t impossible, it took us almost as many beers as it took hours to complete. So why would a local online magazine like Bushwick Daily make a printed guide to BOS?

Because Bushwick Open Studios, as a festival and a celebration of art created on a foundation of openness, accessibility and equality, plays an immensely positive role in our neighborhood. Art has the ability to connect residents of diverse backgrounds on a level that transcends everyday interaction. Art makes us feel; it makes us compassionate and understanding. As a result, we become closer as humans and stronger as a community. Bushwick Open Studios makes us happy to be alive!

With a guide that can fit in your pocket, we hope to make your BOS experience more enlightening, more manageable, and more enjoyable. Hopefully you can escape the Internet for a weekend and engage in some real, flesh-and-bone, human interaction instead. Check out our eight themed guides and three fun walking tours to find the best art, music, dance, outdoor events, and more. We hope you enjoy it!

Have a wonderful Bushwick Open Studios weekend!

FESTIVALS + MORE: OUTDOOR EVENTS

Sunshine, friends, bikes, trucks, lots of booze and art everywhere! Hit the block party, go on a bike or walking tour... BOS weekend might easily be proclaimed as the time of the year to spend out in the open!

- 17 Bushwick History & Walking Tour @ The Living Gallery, 1094 Broadway (SUN 2PM) The history of Bushwick will unravel before your eyes during a walking tour with John Dereszewski, the unofficial historian of Bushwick, and Adam Schwartz, who has been teaching in Bushwick for a decade.
- 18 The Block is Hot!! Block Party @ St. Nicholas Ave & Troutman St. (SUN 11AM-8PM) Bushwick Collective hosts live street art, music and booze among the murals.
- 19 TAT: An Immersive Participatory Urban Game @ 56 Bogart St (SAT-SUN 12-7PM) You are the hero of Isha: A Tell-All Tale, an Indian-style soap opera about the NY art world, created by Meenakshi Thurikode. Scan a QR code, solve a set of clues and receive a bag of goodies at the end.
- 20 The Patio @ 1400 Willoughby Ave (SAT 12-7PM) Tune into the 7-hour long outdoor ambient musical composition by Paul Damian Hogan, performed by Matt Meade and a cast of rotating guests.
- 21 Rock Street 2013 @ Rock St. (SAT 10AM-5PM, SUN 12-6PM) Co-curators Deborah Brown and Leslie Heller will transform Boar's Head road (Rock Street) into a massive sculpture park featuring works of 19 artists.
- 22 Bike Tour of Bushwick Agriculture @ 400 Irving Ave. (SUN 2PM) A bike tour with established locavores of the Bushwick food community. Visit a high school rooftop farm, make a stop at Momo Sushi Shack, and more!
- 23 Truck Yeah @ Pine Box Rock Shop, 12 Grattan St. (SAT 12PM-1AM, SUN 12-10PM) Truck Yeah transforms Grattan Street into a creative hotspot with 14 trucks full of art and food!
- 24 "Don't Box Me In" - Outdoor Performances @ 56 Bogart St (SAT- SUN 12-7PM) A performance every hour and a video installation will occur around a "10' box truck." Curated by Spread Art and Playground Detroit.

Bushwick was originally formed in 1661 by the Dutch and was called "Boswijck," meaning "little town in the woods" or "Heavy Woods."

THE BEST CURATED SHOWS

Galleries, studios and even truck-trailers have been homes to curated shows popping up during the Bushwick Open Studios. We chose the ones particularly intriguing, exciting and conceptually challenging.

- 25 What I Like About You @ Parallel Art Space, 17-17 Troutman (FRI 6-10PM, SAT-SUN 12-7PM) 19 artists from around the globe were invited to Bushwick by Brooklyn-based artist Julie Torres. To make things fun, each of them will show their work alongside a piece of art by a local artist they admire.
- 26 The Deconsumptionists @ Trailer, 23 Montiet St (SAT-SUN 12-7PM) Andrea Monti's ink-jet prints, installations and performance will explore the idea of the end in his solo show LOOSE ENDS - in a 48-foot tractor trailer.
- 27 IRL: internet <-> real life @ 56 Bogart St, 4th floor (SAT-SUN 12-7PM) Six artists connected through social media will be looking for the common threads among themselves. Keywords: sense of place, virtual/real, resonance, social feeds, juxtapositions, hybridity...
- 28 ENLIGHTENMENT @ Outlet Fine Art, 253 Wilson Ave (FRI 8PM, SAT-SUN 12-7PM) A group show of six enlightened artists will be presented by one of Bushwick's youngest and most promising spaces.
- 29 Leveled Land @ Brooklyn Fire Proof, 119 Ingraham (FRI-SUN 12-7PM) An art exhibition comprised of part Brooklyn-based, part Texas-based artists examines life in communities in transition. Both downtown Houston and Bushwick have been experiencing high-paced urbanization and transformation.
- 30 Recent Alumni of VCU Sculpture @ 299 Meserole St (SAT-SUN 12-7PM) Like canned energy is the group show of large sculptural work of recent alumni of VCU. What do the art student arriving to Bushwick think about it? Come find out.

CONCERTS + MORE: THE MUSIC OF BOS

The music community is strongly represented at BOS this year, with a variety of performances, including lots of festivals. Rest your eyes for an afternoon or evening and let your ears do the interpretation at one of these showcases.

31 Variety Music Festival @ Pickfork Salon, 61 Wyckoff Ave. (FRI 5-10PM, SAT-SUN, 12-7PM)

An excellent line-up awaits you at this free 3-day music fest featuring the Bushwick faves Deathrow Tull, The Nuclears and much more. Free food, drinks, giveaways, and art show.

32 Moving Forward @ Brooklyn Fire Proof, 119 Ingraham St (SUN 2PM-2AM)

This 12-hour musical performance, hosted by Ian M. Colletti, will showcase a variety of music from 26 different bands, including special performances from members of The Yeah Yeah Yeahs, Deerhoof and more. $5-20 sliding scale.

33 Electronic Music Showcase @ BossaNova, 1271 Myrtle Ave (SAT 10PM-2AM)

This free show, presented by BOS, is gonna get sweaty. The dance floor will light up with R&B, House, Glitchhop and other electronic soundbytes with tunes from Datalog, Octo Octa, and others. Rave on.

34 Official Launch Show w/ The Beets @ Shea Stadium, 20 Meadow St (FRI 10PM - 2AM) All of the best local indie rock bands come together on Friday night to launch BOS. The Beets, Eula, Air Waves, Lodro, and Darlings provide the soundscapes, Brooklyn Brewery provides the open bar, you provide the fun.

35 StereoactiveNYC / Songwriter's Saloon @ Fort Useless, 36 Ditmars St (SAT-SUN 2PM-12AM)

Stop by or spend the day at this free 2-day music festival. Saturday sees a slew of rock bands like Weird Children and Flying Pace accompanied by a party atmosphere whereas Sunday's Songwriter's Saloon will showcase new music plus discussion from 10+ artists. Either day, this is a fort for music lovers.

BUSHWICK DAILY CURATED GUIDE

THE PIONEERS: O.G.S OF BUSHWICK

Before Bushwick had New York Times write-ups and citywide acclaim for its art scene, it was a silent, sleeping hub of creative ingenuity. We all gotta raise our glasses high for the O.G.'s responsible for putting this place on the map, and what better way to do so than check out their work that brought us here?

36 Rafael Fuchs Gallery @ Fuchs Projects, 56 Bogart St (FRI-SUN 12-8PM)

Bushwick's quintessential photographer extraordinaire is showcasing his photography in his gallery.

37 3rd Ward @ 195 Morgan Ave (FRI 7PM-12:30AM, SAT-SUN 12-7PM)

Seeking Space is a curated group show of work in East Williamsburg's pioneering artistic hub.

38 Deborah Brown @ Storefront Bushwick, 324 Ten Eyck St (SAT-SUN 12-7PM (opening reception on SAT 7-10PM)

Brown is the founder of Storefront Bushwick. She's exhibiting her industrial-inspired paintings.

39 Meg Lipke Studio @ 347 Troutman St #223 (SAT-SUN 12-7PM)

Lipke is an artist and a co-owner of legendary restaurant Northeast Kingdom. She created a wraparound painting for BOS.

40 Norte Maar @ 83 Wyckoff Ave #1B (SAT-SUN 12-7PM)

Bushwick artists come together, creating portraits of the neighborhood pet, Fern Dog.

41 Meryl Meisler @ The Living Gallery, 1094 Broadway (FRI 7-11PM, SAT 12-8PM, Sun 12-7PM)

Meryl Meisler, a former Bushwick teacher in the 1980's, is showing her photographs, which depict the hood then and now in an exhibition called Defying Devastation: Bushwick Then and Now.

42 David Pappaceno @ English Kills, 114 Forrest St. (SAT-SUN 12-7PM)

One of the first and the best galleries in the neighborhood, English Kills ran by Chris Harding, is presenting paintings and sculpture of David Pappaceno. Stop by at the opening on Saturday, 6-9PM.

BEST ART FOR AN ACID TRIP

Even though we do not encourage the use of illegal drugs, sometimes mistakes happen and things slip under your tongue. If that mistake coincides with the Bushwick Open Studios weekend then quickly read this guide before the letters start moving and crawling on your skin like bugs. Enjoy the ride!

- 43 Shamus Clisset @ Storefront Bushwick, 324 Ten Eyck St (SAT-SUN 12-7PM) Realities mixed into a game of memories composed as fully 3-D digital environments will get your mind to very interesting places.
- 44 Michael Mallis and Katie Torn @ 56 Bogart St #224 (SAT-SUN 12-7PM) A world of dystopic fantasy created through satirical drawings and 3D animations will amplify even your wildest imaginations.
- 45 Gwyneth Scally and Aaron Miller @ 513 Johnson Ave #16 (SAT-SUN 12-7PM) Jellyfish, coal salt cellars, naked men in graveyards and Queen Anne chairs. Need we say more?
- 46 Null Set Games @ Gamepad 3000 Experimental Arcade, 176 Knickerbocker Ave #4R (SAT-SUN 12-7PM) If you believe that you are being chased by video game monsters, or that Bushwick looks like the Super Mario world, you are either tripping hard or you are visiting this studio.
- 47 Sisterjam.org @ Publishing House, 74 Cornelia St (SAT 12-7PM) The building previously known as the infamous Trip House offers multiple floors of psychedelia and surprises in every room. Lose yourself in a maze of trippiness.
- 48 Zoo Time @ 405 Johnson Ave (SAT-SUN 12-7PM) How can you pass on the psychedelic deceptive fantasy cave of Kae Burke's design? How can you not wander through Mae Be's mind or interact with Jamie Neumann's choreography? The answer is glitter animals.
- 49 Open (Cliff) House: the Beckett Sessions at Cliff House of Arts, 369 Troutman St. #1A (Plays SAT 5PM-12 AM, SUN 3-10PM) 20th century Samuel Beckett's words are like honey to the hallucinating soul. Come witness 7 short plays by Beckett plus a bunch of other wild surprises, from brass bands to free punch.

B U S H W I C K F A C T

Throughout the 1980s the Knickerbocker Ave shopping district was nicknamed "The Well" for its seemingly unending supply of drugs.

THE SEXY GUIDE: 6 HOTTEST ARTISTS

While the entire art scene in Bushwick continues to explode, there are several artists that have gained a reputation in the neighborhood and beyond. Get the early scoop on these too-hot-to-handle artists!

50 Olivia Barr @ 1054 Willoughby Ave. #3L (SAT-SUN 12-7PM)

Most notably known for her large scale solar activated installations in Fort Greene, Barr is inspired by natural influences on the urban environment around her. She will be featured in this summer's outdoor program at Socrates Sculpture Park in Queens.

51 Chris D'Acunto @ 12 Cypress Ave #420 (SAT-SUN 12-7PM)

D'Acunto will showcase his electrifying, neon paintings of monsters and characters. D'Acunto's Basquiat-esque, graffiti-inspired work has been widely featured throughout Bushwick and Manhattan.

52 Maggie Carson Romano @ 1027 Grand St. #305 (SAT-SUN 12-7PM)

Romano works with film and photography. Her works investigate memory and its connection to sensitivity and response. Keep an eye on this artist, as she's a recent Seattle transplant, as she blends her west coast sensibilities with her new Bushwick surroundings.

53 Helen Dennis @ 54 Knickerbocker Ave. #4B (SAT-SUN 12-7PM)

Dennis recreates the city on a massive scale, using a unique photographic process, with a strong emphasis on architectural forms. This Smack Mellon "hot pick" from 2011 continues to impress us with her wondrous site-specific installations and has gained the attention of Chelsea and Bushwick galleries alike.

54 Etty Yaniv @ 117 Grattan St. #217 (SAT-SUN 12-7PM)

Using drawings, photographs and found objects, Yaniv creates relief sculptures. Her international and local installations aim to reflect the dynamic, ever-changing urban landscape.

55 Steven Charles @ Associated Gallery, 566 Johnson Ave (FRI 7-10PM, SAT-SUN 12-7PM) Charles' Complex paintings contain a variety of materials from synthetic fur, pom poms, corks, food, knives, glitter, and seemingly endless layers of paint.

WALKING TOUR #1: PRINCESS PEACH

“Oh my!” You’ve just come above ground at the Bogart exit at the Morgan L stop. You’re in Bushwick, Princess Peach! Okay, you’re really in East Williamsburg, Bushwick officially begins south of Flushing Ave but who cares when you can still experience the proper Bushwick art and fun! Head straight to the big yellow building right across the street, 56 Bogart (1), a home to galleries and numerous artist studios.

Be careful, Princess, 56 Bogart is a real time and space sucker, and you don’t want to spend whole day at one location, right? So go see some cool photography at Fuchs Projects (36), check out Mellow Pages library (2), and climb to the fourth floor for IRL· internet <-> real life (27).

To refresh yourself, darling, powder your nose in the collage boudoir of Pine Box Rock Shop ; drink a delicious craft ale, and grab a bite from one of the food & art trucks (23). Stick around to see choreography performance, “Green Eye’d and The SHOW” (11) at 10 pm on Friday.

Enjoy the rooftop party at 257 Varet St on Saturday from 7PM to 2AM (9). Princess, head to Tutu’s at 25 Bogart St for your energy fix, and, on your way back, stop by at McKibbin Lofts for a dose of investigation of eroticism, and nudity, and party in the Brooklyn Wildlife style (6).

WALKING TOUR #2: YOSHI

“This world truly is the best!” Welcome to the world off Jefferson L stop, Yoshi. As an agile young dinosaur, you need a full tank before you start. Head to the French bistro Mominette, at 221 Knickerbocker Street, for brunch and some escargots, if you dare... Cross the borough border over to Queens (mama mia!), and walk up to the huge warehouse at 17-17 Troutman St. For Christ sake don’t eat any of the international artists at Parallel Art Space (4). Mingle with international artists at What I Like About You show organized by Julie Torres at Parallel Art Space (25) Don’t miss the numerous artists studios and the other galleries (Harbor, Regina Rex, and Bull and Ram) in the building.

You are on a roll, Yoshi! Just down the street on Troutman & St. Nicholas, the Bushwick Collective (18) is having a huge Block Party on Saturday at 2PM with live street art making and music! Double Win!

Get extra points by making friends with Fern, the famous dog, whose portraits will be hanging all over Norte Maar (40). Next stop is Pickthorn (31), a high end hair colorist salon. Rather than requesting a newly coifed bleached blond look, check out some fabulous art and exciting live music!

Do you suddenly feel like your green dino-coat could be greener, maybe? It sounds like something a kale & apple juice could fix... Head to Owl Juice Pub Juice Pub at 48 Wyckoff Street. Still want more? Continue on to Mario's level....

WALKING TOUR #3: SUPER MARIO

Here we go!" The most advanced of the Bushwick explorers. You are super, after all! Exploring the hidden gems under the JMZ tracks and beyond, your knowledge of the neighborhood is star-worthy. Mario, jump right into the Living Gallery (41) where legendary photographer, Meryl Meisler has juxtaposed images of the Bushwick of the 1980's and of today.

Also at The Living Gallery, On Sunday at 2PM you can join Bushwick's historians, John Dereszewski and Adam Schwartz for a walking tour to learn even more about your hood (17)!

If you prefer racing the wind on your bike, join the Bike Tour of Bushwick Agriculture (22) on Sunday at 2PM. Locavores will visit the Bushwick Campus Farm, Momo Sushi Shack for free lunch, and finish at a super exclusive BBQ Party. Put some coins aside for a donation, Mario!

You likely know of sweet new spots nestled under the JMZ train, like Bossa Nova Civic Club (33) with delicious yet affordable mixed drinks- check out their Electronic Music Showcase on Saturday night. Nearby art and music space Fort Useless (35) will be hosting laid-back bands, art, and fun throughout the entire weekend.

Whenever needed, collect some rewards in the shape of sandwiches and coffee at Little Skips at 941 Willoughby Ave. Careful not to eat too many 'shrooms or you might not continue on.

And now, Mario, "you're a-gonna-win!" as you venture to the exhibition on wheels, The Deconsumptionists (26). Andrew Monti will ponder the cyclical nature of time on Saturday at 6PM. On your way up on Bushwick Avenue stop at The Hotel (7), one of the best collaborative studio buildings in BOS, where you can see work of James Reeder, Rahul Alexander, Cat Glennon, and more!

Mario's adventure is over! Reconnect with your friends, Princess Peach and Yoshi, go relax and enjoy a well deserved cocktail at Bizarre, at 12 Jefferson st.
